Foreword

Realizing that today is done and that the sun of tomorrow is rising, we, the senior class of 1955, take another step further. Our life has not ended; it is only beginning. The time has come when we must put into practice the theoretical learning that we received at AGT. The critical test is yet to come—the test that will determine success or failure.

Let us turn the panorama of events back to the Fall of 1951 when we invaded Aggieland. Well, well! We see ourselves in the early days when we are entering the "halls of ivy"; we see the Aggie gridsters as they tie the score with Florida A&M; the basketball team as it wins over Winston-Salem Teachers College; the baseball team as it triumphs year after year with championship laurels and the boxing team as it takes the CIAA Championship and enters NCAA competition for the first time; we see the multi-million dollar building program being realized as building after building is constructed on the campus. Can these things be forgotten?

Throughout these four years we have shared happiness and hardships together, but these were promising years.

This Ayantee reviews the campus activities of the past year by reflecting the outstanding events in each of the many phases of life here at AGT College in 1954-55.

Dedication

Far more years than our generation cares to remember, the same cheerful, assuring, diminutive figure has filled a niche in the hearts of the A&T College family. Regardless of what the occasion demanded whether it was a kind word, a bit of advice, or an expression of gaiety, this friendly personality was there to provide it.

So much a part of the college is he that to remove him would be to erase what in essence rivals the great traditions of the universe. None we dare say, has won more friends, has memorized more personalities, has viewed more expressions of joy and sorrow than has this small man with the big heart who controls the campus mail.

He has lived up to the highest traditions of the postal service as reflected in its motto, "Neither sleet or snow or gloom of night can stay these couriers from the safe completion of their appointed round."

It is with matchless joy, with sincere gratitude, and with profound pride that we dedicate this, the 1955 Ayantee, to Mr. Allison Gordon, the campus postmaster.

To Our President

Four years ago we were like lonely clouds that wander high above the terrain. Suddenly we saw the sun. That sun was Dr. F. D. Bluford. We gathered around you and beckoned your guidance. Your light shone to direct our way—a way that has led us to this point.

Sir, we are the products of intelligent leadership and sterling administrative ability. These things you possess. Your keen decisions kept our heads upright; your desires were ours; and your frequent answers to our calls gave us reason for hope and helped us to realize our responsibility. For this we shall be forever grateful.

May all honors come your way and may the inspiration which you have given us continue in those whom you have influenced.

Outstanding Seniors

In every group there are those who show traits of leadership. So it was with those students of the senior class who distinguished themselves. They put their own beliefs to test under new and mature thinking; they probed, relentlessly, into those fields hitherto unknown to them and they trod slowly down strange roads of learning.

May they continue their roles of leadership as they take their places in this challenging world of ours.

Junior

The Junior Class was a dynamic force for good on the A. & T. College campus during 1954-55. Its members were a part of every progressive movement aimed at the improvement of student life on the campus.

We salute the juniors who will take the places of the graduating seniors.

Class

Officers

Sophomores

The sophomore class took its place on the campus as a moving and energetic spirit. The group, as a whole, contributed much to the continued educational growth and development here and in many spheres assumed leadership. Without question, they have come of age.

The "crop" of freshmen entering A. & T. in the fall of 1954 were a bit different from the usual. They had far more composure and became readily adjusted to their new surroundings. With this "running start," the group immediately became a part of the happy family.

Lt. Col. Roy W. Sorrell, PMS&T

The Army ROTC unit, the oldest of the military groups at the college, was organized as a senior division in 1946. It has produced hundreds of officers during its eight years of operation.

In its earlier years, the unit specialized in the area of infantry officers, but with the change in policy, the program trains officers who may follow training in their chosen specialties following graduation.

Campus organizations played an important role in our happy lives on the A. & T. campus. Almost everybody belonged to one or more. These organizations came to contribute much to a pleasant educational experience and presented a social outlet.

The pictures which follow are only a part of the vast number of organizations operating in every school, department and activity at the college. But for their existence and the experience in cooperative endeavor they offered, many students would suffer in want of things to do.

The Ayantee

Many valuable hours were spent in the preparation of the 1955 edition of the AYANTEE which attempts to portray life typical of that lived during the past year in "Aggieeland."

While the staff had much fun in its preparation, the job was not all play. We encountered many problems and solved them as best we knew how.

Assuming major roles at its completion, along with the Editor-in-Chief, Charles King, were: Edward Brown, associate editor; Benjamin Pearson, business manager; Theodore Roberson and Pearlene Foster, literary editors; James Koger and Irvan McMurtry, layout editors; Charles D. Bussey, copy editor; James Pearson, photography editor; William Davis, art editor. Other persons assisting in the preparation were: Mary Washington, Mattie Craft, Helen Williams, Azalea Blue, Thelma Faison, James Knight, II, sports editor; William Ford, Pearlene Foster, and Don Fairley. Mr. Ellis F. Corbett served as faculty adviser.

Introducing many changes, the Register staff, under the energetic leadership of Charles D. Bussey and Don J. Fairley, editor and associate, respectively, consistently published an outstanding journal.

Headaches were plentiful and long hours marked the amateur journalists' school days, but perseverance and a willingness to learn prevailed. The results? . . . The most controversial yet most productive year in the long history of the A. & T. College Register.

Bussey, Charles Baxter, and Thurmond Andrews.

The Pan-Hellenic Council

The college Pan-Hellenic Council served a useful purpose as a supervisory agent for the Greek-letter organizations on the campus. Comprising its membership were three representatives from each of the eight organizations. At A. & T., there were seven social fraternities and sororities and one service fraternity. The sororities which held membership were: Alpha Kappa Alpha, Delta Sigma Theta and Zeta Phi Beta and it contained the following fraternities: Alpha Phi Alpha, Omega Psi Phi, Kappa Alpha Psi and Phi Beta Sigma.

Members of the Philias are James H. Leach and Authur Bowden.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Kappa Alpha

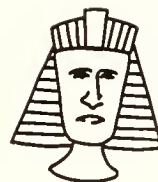

Members of the Ivy Leaf Interest Group are Tommiesene Mason, Helen Black, Chestina Legette, Jean O'Hara, Celestine Foster, Betty Williams, Odessa Brown, Polly Anderson, Ruby Delaney, Oriole Gadsden, and Mildred Curley.

"A Phi A, we love you, yes we do—To thy standards we'll be ever true. . . ." Oldest of the fraternities, Alpha Phi Alpha, adhering to its aims of manly deeds, scholarship and love for all mankind, was soundly supported by these brothers: left to top to right: Walter Hall, James Barnes, Robert D. Shaw, Joe Byrd, James Porter, Corresponding Secretary; Ted Hall, Isaac Willis, Treasurer; Andrew Johnson, William J. Bussey, Parliamentarian; Ocie Boyers, Recording Secretary; Don J. Fairley, and Gilbert Caldwell, President.

Alpha Phi Alpha

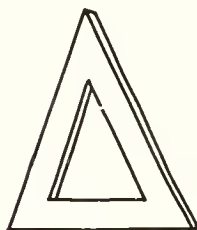

"The mystic Sphinx, to us an aim does signify . . ." sang these little brothers of Alpha. Left to right, front: Samuel L. Tucker, Charles Hawkins, Clarence Peoples; second row, left to right: Henry Howcott, Jesse J. Bass, Eddie Bell, Leon Dixon; top, left to right: Charles Gibson, William Mason and William Peterson.

Thus faith and hope and love last on, these three; But in Delta Sigma Theta the greatest of these is love. The dynamic Deltas of Alpha Mu Chapter are, left to right, front row: Ella Mae Pompey; Mattie Cheston; Helen Williams, Pan-Hellenic Representative; Pearlene Foster, Recording Secretary; Jacquetta Still; Doretha Bozier; Blanche Fairley, Pan-Hellenic Representative; Dorothy Melton; and Ethel Martin. Second row: Dorislene Dew; Daisy Johnson; Celestie Collins, President; Priscilla Webb; Blanche Herring, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Margaret Jones. Standing: Elsie Bridgett; Mary C. Delta Sigma Theta

Omega Psi Phi

Mu Psi chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity was the second of the fraternities to be established on the campus. The fraternity has four cardinal principles: Manhood, Scholarship, Perseverance and Uplift. The men of Omega, here at A. & T., strive to uphold these ideals.

Richard B. Harrison Players

Kappa Phi Kappa Forensic Society

Whether the discussion concerns A. & T. College or national affairs, the Kappa Phi Kappa Debating Society gallantly upholds its side of the argument. The team competed with many outstanding institutions throughout the nation and compiled a commendable record.

Modern Dance Group

The Modern Dance Group was an organization open to all students who showed talent. The participants learned dances of various countries, ranging from creative to modern, and even "bop." This year the students thrilled to the outstanding dances presented by this organization. The group is under the direction of Mrs. Cynthia C. Chivers.

"Miss A. & T."

With pride we hail the choice of the student body, "Miss A. & T." The fine qualities of true womanhood, grace, poise, friendliness, and dignity are found in Miss Hill. The charming Miss Elizabeth Hill of Columbia, North Carolina, was chosen for this highest honor mainly because of these characteristics. A member of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, she is active in many campus organizations, ranging from the Junior-Senior Dormitory Counselors to the Home Ecker's Club. Miss Hill, a home economics major, warmed the heart of every student as she reigned over Aggie-land.

Homecoming

That real Homecoming "Welcome."

The French Club's Winning Float

Miss A. & T. addresses the huge throng from the royal car.

The 1954 homecoming celebration came up to the usual high standard of this gala event. Thousands of alumni, friends and parents of students were on hand for the main event, the football clash featuring Morgan State College and the Aggies. Morgan took the clash, 6-0 in the waning minutes, but dampened the spirit of the festive occasion only slightly.

Here are a few scenes which depict the highlights of the big event.

Yes, the crowd was quite large.

The Spirited Aggie Team

Basketball

With freshman coach Cal Irvin at the helm, the Blue and Gold basketballers enjoyed their most successful season in several years. Hailed as the "darkhorse" at the season's opening, the Aggies ran true to form as Irvin's combination of yearlings and veterans breezed through their first 10 games before running into an aroused group of Hampton Pirates.

The team won the Holiday Festival Tourney, the first tournament win in the history of the college.

Coach Cal Irvin

Rangy Billy Boyd Smith, Aggie center, leaps high to snare a rebound against Virginia State, "Script" Dorsey stands ready to assist.

Wyatt Minton and "Script" Dorsey scuffle with two J. C. Smith players for a loose ball as "Easy Ed" Wells prepares to join the scramble.

Wyatt Minton, Aggie pivotman, rises above his J. C. Smith opponents to sink a "hook shot." Ray Lambert (50) watches from backcourt. Minton bucketed twenty-two (22) points in the Aggies' 70 to 67 win over the Golden Bulls.

Aggie Speed Merchants

Track

The A. & T. College track team completed the best year in the history of the college. The tracksters won the Florida A. & M. University Relays, the North Carolina College Quadrangular Meet, North Carolina College Relays, repeated as champions of the Alabama A. & M. Relays, placed second in the CIAA Championships and the 888-yard relay team placed third in the Penn Relays College Championship of America.

Boxing

Still the terrors of CIAA boxing circles, the Aggie mittmen, paced by the headline performances of "old pros" Don Quarles and Roland Walton, waded through a rough schedule to cop top laurels.

The Champions of the CIAA.

The Fabulous Stickmen

Baseball

Rolling on like "Ole Man River," the Aggie baseball team continued to be the master of the diamond in the CIAA. The power and ability displayed by the Aggies proved their championship calibre. The 1954 season will certainly be remembered by Coach Harris and his diamond performers as one of their most interesting campaigns.

Coach Leroy F. Harris

"Won't you join me, the water's free."
Looking for a partner?

"... Down by the old mill stream ..."
Yes, the lure of the out-of-doors is terrific.

Even farming can be beautiful
Oh, for the life of a fish ...
